Protesters reading Mass Resistance white paper on same sex marriage by Brian Camenker.

Concord, NH – An estimated 900 motivated NH citizens turned out to support marriage and defend their pocket book on April 15. With signs expressing grievances the NH State and Federal government have caused its people -the rally served the purpose of putting legislators on notice that destroying marriage, forcing citizens to submit to the bizarre agenda of the transgenders, destroying NH retirement fund benefits, raising taxes on every consumable and service is not acceptable.

While hundreds of traditional marriage supporters sang hymns, listened to speakers such as Manchester Mayor Frank Guinta, the homosexual lobbyist blared a recording of Martin Luther King; later to try and invade the marriage rally with signs and yell slogans at the crowd. One supporter of traditional marriage had a sign sloganed "Time to Grow Up", which caused a stir among homosexual protesters.

Mass Resistance flyers were passed out to attendees of the rally. Many were astonished at the consequences of allowing marriage to be redefined in Massachusetts. The jailing of a father, David Parker, because he asked that he be notified when homosexual issues would be taught in his son's elementary class made many shake their heads in disgust.

One Pastor later testified to the Senate Judiciary stated that the Leader for the Freedom to Marry Coalition in a conversation on a marriage amendment stated, "Why the h--- would we give citizens the G—D--- right to vote on a civil rights issue." Pastor Ken Bosse asked the judicial committee "why isn't marriage being put before the people like 30 other states have done". There was no answer.

A representative of Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays NH testified to the need of transgenders for a gender neutral marriage to ease the burden they face when transferring from one sex to another in a present marriage or relationship.
