- Read form CH-120-INFO, How Can I Respond to a Request for Civil Harassment Restraining Orders?, to learn how to respond to this Order.
- If you want to respond, fill out form CH-120, Response to Request for Civil Harassment Restraining Orders, and file it with the court clerk. You do not have to pay any fee to file your response if the Request claims that you inflicted or threatened violence against or stalked the person in ①.

Instructions for Law Enforcement

Enforcing the Restraining Order

This order is enforceable by any law enforcement agency that has received the order, is shown a copy of the order, or has verified its existence on the California Restraining and Protective Orders System (CARPOS). If the law enforcement agency has not received proof of service on the restrained person, the agency must advise the restrained person of the terms of the order and then must enforce it. Violations of this order are subject to criminal penalties.

Start Date and End Date of Orders

This order starts on the date next to the judge's signature on page 4. The order ends on the expiration date in item ④ on page 1.

Arrest Required if Order Is Violated

If an officer has probable cause to believe that the restrained person had notice of the order and has disobeyed the order, the officer must arrest the restrained person. (Pen. Code, §§ 836(c)(1), 13701(b).) A violation of the order may be a violation of Penal Code section 166 or 273.6. Agencies are encouraged to enter violation messages into CARPOS.

Notice/Proof of Service

The law enforcement agency must first determine if the restrained person had notice of the order. Consider the restrained person "served" (given notice) if (Pen. Code, § 836(c)(2)):

- The officer sees a copy of the Proof of Service or confirms that the Proof of Service is on file; or
- The restrained person was informed of the order by an officer.

An officer can obtain information about the contents of the order and proof of service in CARPOS. If proof of service on the restrained person cannot be verified, the agency must advise the restrained person of the terms of the order and then enforce it.

This is a Court Order.

If the Protected Person Contacts the Restrained Person

Even if the protected person invites or consents to contact with the restrained person, this order remains in effect and must be enforced. The protected person cannot be arrested for inviting or consenting to contact with the restrained person. The order can be changed only by another court order. (Pen. Code, § 13710(b).)

Conflicting Orders—Priorities for Enforcement

If more than one restraining order has been issued protecting the protected person from the restrained person, the orders must be enforced in the following priority (see Pen. Code, § 136.2 and Fam. Code, §§ 6383(h)(2), 6405(b)):

1. Emergency Protective Order (EPO): If one of the orders is an Emergency Protective Order (form EPO-001), provisions (e.g., stay-away order) that are more restrictive than in the other restraining/protective orders must be enforced. Provisions of another order that do not conflict with the EPO must be enforced.
2. No-Contact Order: If a restraining/protective order includes a no-contact order, the no-contact order must be enforced. Item 5a(2) is an example of a no-contact order.
3. Criminal Protective Order (CPO): If none of the orders include an EPO or a no-contact order, the most recent CPO must be enforced. (Fam. Code, §§ 6383(h)(2) and 6405(b).) Additionally, a CPO issued in a criminal case involving charges of domestic violence, Penal Code sections 261, 261.5, or former 262, or charges requiring sex offender registration must be enforced over any civil court order. (Pen. Code, § 136.2(e)(2).) All provisions in the civil court order that do not conflict with the CPO must be enforced.
4. Civil Restraining Orders: If there is more than one civil restraining order (e.g., domestic violence, juvenile, elder abuse, civil harassment), then the order that was issued last must be enforced. Provisions that do not conflict with the most recent civil restraining order must be enforced.

ATTACHMENT 7a (3) 1 of 2

Trisha Keeling began sending altered screenshots of [REDACTED] Domestic Violence Incident that occurred on May 16, 2023 naming me as the Victim and [REDACTED] my Husband Robb Mc Dermott as the assailant. This case was dismissed by the San Bernardino County District Attorney on January 24, 2024 as it was revealed that the incident was initiated by an Autistic meltdown caused by sensory overload - and no physical contact was made by [REDACTED] Robb Mc Dermott. This is the official court record.

I am autistic and this type of sensory dysregulation can happen unpredictably and make an autistic person more vulnerable to a meltdown and less able to cope with triggers. Among them are situations involving increased social interactions, higher demands on executive function, or a time of mental or physical illness. At the time of this incident, I was dealing with the flu and had taken medication to counter the side effects- leading to my meltdown.

Trisha Keeling paid a third-party source for information on my husband and me, resulting in this incident's acquisition.

Trisha Keeling altered the image which resulted in the omission of the dismissal.

She sent the altered image via online messaging on Facebook and other social media platforms to members of our community in an attempt to discredit and shame me and my husband. To retaliate for her being removed from a community Facebook group.

Immediately upon being made aware of what Trisha Keeling was doing, I contacted her directly via her Facebook profile direct messaging and demanded she stop sending this out to people as it was false and her actions violated the California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act as well as being a HIPPA Violation as in order to defend and refute the false information being sent by Trisha Keeling, I would be forced to reveal my private medical condition and history, as evidenced by my having to reveal my medical history when I contacted Trisha Keeling at 5:21 P.M October 18, 2024, to demand she stop sending my private family business to others.

I explained to Trisha Keeling that the record she was sending out was false and incomplete as the case had been dismissed, I gave her a warning that if she continued there would be legal consequences.

Trisha Keeling found my response to be funny as she replied with the acronym L.O.L (Laugh Out Loud)

Trisha Keeling then proceeded to contact [REDACTED] to find out who had informed me of what she had done. After this contact, [REDACTED] sent screenshots of this interaction as well.

After receiving [REDACTED] screenshots we sought out the address and phone number information of Trisha Keeling to pursue legal protection, the information we acquired is openly available to anyone free of charge via Google Search.

A seven-second confirmation of the phone number listed was initiated by [REDACTED] at 6:30 PM October 18, 2024, at 6:30 PM after which time I informed Trisha we would no longer contact her pending legal action.

Good evening. I am hearing that you are planning to post my family's private business online. I trust is out of line and an obscene attack on myself, when we costly you do nothing in legal action. The D.A. case was dismissed. I am autistic and made a distress call during an episode involving my neurological challenges. It was misinterpreted by police (surprising, right) and the charges were dropped by the D.A. If you practice what you preach, only pursue you work in litigation but I will also partner with the Autism Society of the Inland Empire and my journalist friends and out you for not only being a bully, but also an abuser taking advantage of a disabled person. You are out of line here and I am going to the D.A. office.

Never said I was making a post about anything

Thanks for threatening me though

Why would I be hearing this?
Most my family, why would the people who told me, tell me so?"
